

Democrats Plan Investigations On Several Issues

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Democrats, taking control of Congress, say they plan an active year of investigations on many different fronts.

A continuing search for Communists in government and a close scrutiny of the security and power programs of the Eisenhower administration are among main ones.

Sen. Russell (D-Ga.), incoming chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, said today he will probably revive the Preparedness subcommittee for a critical look at the armed forces' purchasing program and other activities. He said it also would be the logical one to examine the proposed 403,000-man cut in the armed forces.

No One-Man Hearings
Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.) said he thinks the Republicans spent too much time "digging up old corpses" and Democrats "will keep their investigations more current."

The Senate Rules Committee, from which Sen. Jenner (R-Ind.) is about to step down as chairman, is working on a suggested new code of "fair play" rules for investigations. In the House, Rep. Hugh Scott (R-Pa.) has announced he also will propose such a code.

Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.) who will take over the Investigations subcommittee chairmanship from Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.), says this group will abolish "one-man hearings," which have been a subject of deep controversy.

In the House, Rep. Walter (D-Pa.) has announced no detailed plans for investigations pending a shakeup of the staff of the Un-American Activities Committee, of which he became chairman. The outgoing chairman is Rep. Velde (R-III).

Foe Of Private Power
One subject certain to undergo investigation is the Dixon-Yates contract, under which the government would buy privately generated electric power to be fed into the public-power lines of the Tennessee Valley Authority. A Senate Judiciary subcommittee to be headed by Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.), a bitter foe of the project, has already had a preliminary look at the project.

Sen. Olin D. Johnston (D-SC) has announced plans to investigate the Eisenhower administration's announcements of security risk firings. Johnston calls it "a measure racket that misleads more than it informs." A report Monday listed 8,008 persons dropped as security risks in a period of 16 months. Of the total, 2,096 were said to have "subversive data" in their files.

"I hope to show," Johnston said, "whether these figures represent a deliberate attempt to magnify a situation."

Foreign Service Hires Ladejinsky

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Foreign Operations Administration announced today it has hired Wolf Ladejinsky, fired as a security risk from his post as agriculture attaché in the Tokyo embassy, to do a land reform job in Viet Nam.

Foreign Aid Administrator Harold Stassen said in the announcement that FOA has reviewed Ladejinsky's file and found him "eligible for certification for security and loyalty."

He commented that "in this very difficult matter of evaluating personnel from a security standpoint, individuals sometimes reach different conclusions even as judges of any court sometimes have dissenting opinions."

The shift to FOA, which had been predicted earlier, was at least a partial solution for a problem that had plagued the Agriculture Department and the State Department in opposition to each other.

Ladejinsky had security clearance from the State Department but his post was shifted to Agriculture Department control by an act of the last Congress and Secretary of Agriculture Benson, on advice of his security officer, ruled against retention of Ladejinsky in the attaché position.

In addition to the security finding, the Agriculture Department held that Ladejinsky lacked technical qualifications that the department would require.

Red Youth Menace Smashed In Iran

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—Iran's military governor, Brig. Gen. Teimour Bakhtiar, announced today his forces have rounded up all but two of the top leaders of Iran's Communist youth movement.

Bakhtiar said the arrest of 63 men and 5 women in the dragnet had smashed the Red youth organization, the spearhead of numerous disorders in the capital in the past.

Kentucky Farmer, 42, Admits Clubbing Sons

WILLIAMSBURG, Ky. (AP)—A 6-foot, 175-pound farmer was held in default of $5,000 bond today after his two sons overcame their fear and blamed him for a near-fatal beating.

The youngsters' ability to dodge and to absorb the blows, doctors said, apparently saved them from death.

Esco Proffitt, 42, was charged with malicious striking and wounding with a deadly weapon with intent to kill. Officers said they believed the weapon was a tree limb 1½ inches in diameter and 3 feet long. Proffitt said he was "not guilty."

His sons John, 16, and Coy, 12, first claimed they were attacked by an unidentified man while gathering wood near their mountain home nine miles from here.

Brought from a hospital at Jellico, Tenn., the brothers repeated the story at a court of inquiry. But officers, who surmised they were afraid to talk, treated the boys to meals and new clothing, and the brothers admitted later they knew their assailant.

Mrs. Proffitt, the 22-year-old stepmother, also had testified her husband was not involved but changed her story after the inquiry.

Officers quoted her as saying Proffitt whipped his sons last Sunday because they left a saw and an ax in the woods.

Sheriff Everett Rains said Coy was beaten so severely his head "was swollen twice the normal size. He can't see. His eyes are swollen tight." John suffered a gash from the center of his head "to the top of his left ear. And the bodies of both boys were covered with blotches."

"There are large holes in their backs where flesh was torn away," the sheriff added.

Panama To Offer $50,000 For Arrest Of Remon Assassin

PANAMA (AP)—Panama is expected to offer $50,000 for information leading to the killers of President Jose Antonio Remon. The government also has asked the National Assembly for another $50,000 for investigation expenses.

The Assembly unanimously approved the first reading Tuesday of an administration bill authorizing the payments. Final passage was believed certain, probably Thursday.

Authorities said identification of the weapons used in the Remon slaying implicated ex-President Arnulfo Arias, one of 66 persons arrested.

Secret Police Chief Jorge Luis-alfo said guns of the same type, German-made Schmeisser 9-mm. machine guns, have been confiscated on previous occasions from

Comedian's Gun Used In Suicide

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—A former movie director and writer borrowed a pistol from comedian Buster Keaton and killed himself in a restaurant restroom, police reported.

The body of Clyde Bruckman, 60, was found Tuesday. Police said he left a typewritten note asking them to deliver his body to the Los Angeles County Medical Assn. or a medical school for experimental purposes and stating that "I have no money to pay for a funeral." It also asked that his wife Gladys, who lives here, be notified.

Keaton told police Bruckman asked to use the .45-caliber gun for a hunting trip. In silent pictures Bruckman directed Keaton, Harold Lloyd and W.C. Fields. Later he became a screen writer.

Found Dead In Hole

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP)—John Donahue, a plumbing and heating engineer, was found dead in a hole he had dug behind his house. Police said he had planned to put a spigot on a water pipe, but apparently had cut into a gas pipe by mistake and had been overcome by the rush of gas.

Congress Convenes; Democrats At Helm

Rayburn Takes Over As House Speaker Again

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Sam Rayburn of Texas takes over today as House speaker, a position he has filled twice before and longer than any other man in history.

"We're not going in hating President Eisenhower just because he's a Republican," he said.

Rayburn, 73 Thursday, is undisputed leader of his party in the House and something of a symbol of Democratic party fortunes for the past 42 years he has been in congress.

He first became speaker in 1940. Since then has been out of that job only in 1947-48 and 1953-54, when the Republicans controlled Congress and Rep. Martin (R-Mass) was speaker.

In an interview, Rayburn said the Democrats hope for bipartisan cooperation with the GOP on foreign affairs and national defense—provided there is a strong administration foreign and defense policy.

As for the President's budget requests, due to come to Congress Jan. 17, Rayburn said the Democrats "don't know whether it's going to be enough."

It may be necessary, he intimated, to add more dollars than the President asks for defense spending and to support foreign programs.

As for domestic issues—farm prices, tariffs and the like—Rayburn observed with a shrug that "Democrats and Republicans never have agreed in toto."

Russia Revives Old US Disputes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Russia was disclosed today to have renewed its long-standing dispute with the United States over blame for three Far Eastern incidents involving planes of the two countries.

Informed officials said Soviet notes delivered to the U.S. Embassy at Moscow on New Year's Day reaffirmed the Russian viewpoint on these incidents:

1. The shooting down by Soviet aircraft on July 29, 1953, of an American RB50 plane over the Sea of Japan, with the loss of 15 crew members.

2. The shooting down two days earlier of a Russian IL12 airplane, with 20 aboard, by a U. S. Air Force fighter plane on a combat mission in Korea. At the time, this country expressed regret over loss of the Russian airmen, but said the Soviet plane had no business being where it was.

3. The shooting down of a U. S. Air Force plane, with the loss of its eight-man crew, by Soviet fighters off northern Japan Oct. 7, 1952.

Each government blames the other for the incidents.

Headless Hen Lives

Deepening Of Lakes Seaway Discussed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Backers of legislation to authorize deepening of the Great Lakes connecting channels to 27 feet to tie the upper lakes in with the St. Lawrence Seaway met in Washington Tuesday.

They attended a luncheon given by the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Assn. Most of the discussion, conferees said, centered on what type of legislation to offer in the new Congress starting today. No definite decisions were made, they said.

The seaway legislation passed this year authorizes construction of a 27-foot channel up the St. Lawrence River to Lake Erie but does not provide for any work in the western lakes where the connecting channels are not that deep.

Maj. Gen. Bernard L. Robinson, deputy chief of Army Engineers, was reported to have told the gathering that the deepening of the upper channels, estimated to cost 109 million dollars, would take five years to complete, but that some benefits would begin to accrue earlier.

The work already has been recommended by the Chicago Division of the Army Engineers.

Sens. Wiley (R-Wis.) and Humphrey (D-Minn.), Rep. Dondero (R-Mich.) and N. R. Danielian, president of the association, talked at the meeting.

Wiley said he expects to introduce legislation this week to deepen the channels. He added that, if an omnibus rivers and harbors bill is introduced, he will withdraw his bill and try to include the upper lakes work in the omnibus measure.

Rep. O'Konski (R-Wis.) also said the first measure he introduces this year will be to authorize deeper channels.

Conferees stressed, it was reported, that a bipartisan approach should be used in the proposed legislation. One main argument to be used, they said, will be that the states bordering the western part of the Great Lakes in the past have asked for few federal water projects.

Hammarskjold Dines With Chou En-lai On Mission To Red China

TOKYO (AP)—U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold reached Peiping on his mission to free 11 U.S. airmen and later met Premier Chou En-lai in what the Red radio described as "a friendly atmosphere."

Chou did not turn out to meet Hammarskjold at the airport, however, as is the case when Communist China gives a distinguished visitor a rousing reception. Nor did Peiping radio mention the reason for the U.N. official's visit.

Hammarskjold and his party landed in Peiping at 1:55 p.m., Peiping time, and Chou did not welcome him until 5:30 p.m., when he threw a cocktail party.

Chou invited to the party the diplomatic representatives of the various Iron Curtain embassies and those from Finland, Denmark, Switzerland, Britain, the Netherlands, Norway, Pakistan, India and Burma. Chen Yi, Red China's vice premier, also attended.

"The cocktail party proceeded in a friendly atmosphere," Peiping radio said.

Chou then was host at a more intimate dinner at 8 p.m. Peiping radio mentioned only three as attending, Hammarskjold, Chou and Chang Han Fu, vice foreign minister.

Two Factions Fight For Supremacy In Soviet Hierarchy

Editor's Note—Is the top about to blow off the "committee rule" that succeeded Stalin as the governing force in the Soviet Union? Two former Moscow correspondents, who regularly read and analyze the Russian press, appraise the possibilities in this article.

Press Reverses Again

All signs seem to point to this sort of division:

On one side—the Communists of the Stalin school, devoted to the principle of dynamic communism which has produced such dangerous situations as the Berlin blockade and the Korean War.

On the other side—the Communists of more conservative and cautious leanings who believe that time is on their side and they can play the waiting game while building internally. This sort of approach led to the Korean and Indochinese truces and to a surface slackening of world tensions after Stalin's death.

The Soviet press, reflecting the views of the Communist leadership, has been going through a strange series of reversal ever since Stalin died. From a peaceful tone it has gone over to one of belligerence on the international

Jet Base Choice Still Disputed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Victor C. Knox (R-Mich.) says he will support a move for a congressional investigation of the Air Force's disputed choice of a site for a jet plane base near Cadillac, Mich.

Previously, Rep. Ruth Thompson (R-Mich.) said she expects to tell the House Armed Services Committee "some things not brought out yet" about the decision to locate the eight-million-dollar base in Wexford County near Cadillac.

Knox said backers of a rival Kalkaska site, which is in his 11th Congressional District, want a hearing to bring reasons for the decision to light.

Miss Thompson said she has advised Rep. Vinson (D-Ga.), who is to be chairman of the committee, that she has "a little mess to put in his lap." She said Vinson replied he would be glad to talk to her about it.

Flowers Bloom, Ducks Stay In Missouri

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Unseasonably warm temperatures so far this year have brought out leaf buds on rose bushes, blooming dandelions and kept migrating ducks and geese in the area.

The mercury climbed to 63 degrees Tuesday, the highest for Jan. 4 in at least 25 years.

James F. Comfort, president of the Missouri Audubon Society, said that thousands of geese and ducks, which should have flown south long ago, are still around because they can forage for food in ponds and lakes usually frozen over at this time of year.

President's First Message To Be Heard Thursday

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democrats take control of Congress today with the pledge of the new Senate majority leader, Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, that they will offer "neither blind support nor blind opposition" to President Eisenhower's program.

Both houses of the 84th Congress were scheduled to go through the formalities of transferring control from the Republicans to the Democrats, swear in new members and adjourn to await Eisenhower's personally delivered State of the Union message tomorrow.

Party Cooperation Seen

That message is expected to be built around claims of prosperity at home and the nonexistence of hostilities abroad, with assurances that the GOP administration is moving to tighten the nation's defenses in an era of continuing cold war.

Re-elected as Democratic floor leader by a party caucus yesterday, Johnson said in an interview he and his colleagues have "rejected the theory that it is the duty of the opposition to oppose merely for opposition's sake."

Sen. Knowland of California, the Republican leader, said he is looking forward to a "constructive session."

"I believe that on a good deal of legislation we will have cooperation between the two parties," he said.

Knowland said he and Johnson had agreed to keep in close consultation on the legislative program, but had not come to any understanding yet about what will be the first business before the Senate.

Treason Charges Recalled

Rep. Rayburn of Texas, the incoming Democratic House speaker has said that body will go to work first on Eisenhower's expected proposal for a three-year extension of the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act, together with additional tariff-cutting powers.

While Democrats in general likely will support that proposal, Rayburn told a caucus of Democratic representatives yesterday things were done and said by Republicans in last year's pre-election campaign that he could "neither forgive nor forget."

This was an obvious reference to "party of treason" charges the Democrats said were aimed at them during the campaign. It also echoed previous complaints by Rayburn about some of the tactics employed by Vice President Nixon and others.

Nixon will be presiding over a Senate going back, after two years of GOP rule, to Democratic control by the margin of one vote.

When 14 new senators have been sworn in the Senate's membership will include 48 Democrats, 47 Republicans and Sen. Morse (Ind-Ore). Despite some absences on both sides, Sen. George (D-Ga.) was expected to be elected president pro tem, succeeding Sen. Bridges (R-NH). That would signal formal Democratic control. George was named for the post by a Democratic caucus yesterday.

Will Fix Priorities

Knowland said he assumes that,

Restraint Placed On Stock Trading By Government

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government put out a moderately restraining hand toward the surging stock market today, calling for purchasers of stocks to put up at least 60 per cent cash instead of the previous 50 per cent.

The action, announced by the Federal Reserve Board late Tuesday, was promptly protested by the New York Stock Exchange president, Keith Funston, as restraining "the proper function of the market and the free interplay of the basic law of supply and demand."

The stock market has been advancing steadily for more than 15 months, and since the November elections it has been surging ahead with almost unprecedented speed.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks slipped Tuesday to $155.80 after reaching $156.40 on Monday, a level topped only by the peak of $157.70 on Sept. 3, 1929, shortly before the big Wall Street crash. There were no federal cash minimums in 1929.

The government has no authority to re-late stock prices. A 1934 law authorizes the reserve board only to "prevent the excessive use of credit" in the stock market. The theory behind the action is that a hike in the cash requirement will cut down on speculative buying. The requirement could have been raised to 100 per cent.

New York brokers generally agree that speculation on margin is not a major factor in the present boom. The ratio of money borrowed by brokers to lend for margin trading is only about 1 per cent of the value of all securities listed on the New York Stock Exchange. In 1929 it was nearly 10 per cent.

Budget Jolted By College Needs

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Williams, preparing a steadily-mounting budget for 1955, is struggling now with the demand from state-supported colleges for 150 million dollars in construction funds over the next five years.

The governor told his press conference Tuesday he did not know how such a program could be financed. But he agreed the colleges needed it.

He said Michigan college enrollments, now 97,000, will jump 32,000 by 1960.

He conferred with a committee of college presidents yesterday on their program and asked them to see if they could whittle it down any by Thursday.

"The college presidents," Williams said, "feel that any program giving them an assured annual amount would be a step in the right direction. Now they can't project any future plans."

Williams conceded that such assurance could only be provided by a bond issue or an earmarked tax, but he added "the Legislature could endorse an amount" for future years which would guide the colleges in their planning.

Under the presidents' program for the next five years the University of Michigan would get $66,100,000; Michigan State College $44,900,000; Central Michigan, $5,000,000; Western Michigan, $8,600,000; Michigan state normal, $5,100,000; Northern Michigan College, $2,300,000; Michigan College of Mining and Technology, $9,700,000 and Ferris Institute, $8,200,000.

Safety Conference Will Be Held Here Thursday, Jan. 13

A teen-age safety conference, sponsored by the Escanaba Daily Press in cooperation with the Michigan State Police, will be held at the Escanaba High School Thursday, Jan. 13. Edward E. Edick, principal of the Escanaba High School, will be conference chairman.

High schools in this area which will be represented at the conference include Escanaba, Holy Name, Bark River, Rapid River, Gladstone, Perkins, Rock, Trenary, Nahma, Manistique and Cooks.

A youth planning committee meeting will be held Jan. 6 at 7:30 at the Escanaba High School. Representatives of the various schools will meet with Sgt. Ralph Sheehan of the Michigan State Police, Prof. K. A. Wahtera, Northern Michigan College of Education, and John Gucky, safety supervisor of the Marquette schools, to organize areas of discussion for the Jan. 13 meeting, which will be an all-day conference.

Similar conferences were held last month in Marquette and Houghton. A conference at Iron Mountain is scheduled Jan. 12 and other conferences will be held in Menominee, Sault Ste Marie and Ironwood.

Daily newspaper publishers of the Upper Peninsula are sponsoring the safety conferences in their area and financing the Upper Peninsula delegation to the state conference that will be held at Kellogg Center, East Lansing, on Feb. 18.

The Upper Peninsula delegation will comprise 18 Upper Peninsula students. Two will be selected at each of the seven regional conferences and four additional delegates will be chosen at large by the general committee.

This is the second year that the teen-age safety conference has been held. Last year the conferences were financially supported by the Upper Peninsula State Fair.

Will Leaves Body To Medical School, Orders Bonds Burned

EAST JORDAN (P)—An unusual will filed Monday in Charlevoix County reclus, died Dec. 30 at Charlevoix Hospital after a brief illness. Probate Judge Floyd Saff said Foote's will, dated Feb. 17, 1950, was "in perfect legal order."

The will provides that Foote's only apparent survivor, a sister, Mrs. Minnie Gibson, 86, of Meadville, Miss., receive the income from industrial securities deposited in the East Jordan State Bank.

It directs the income revert to the Red Cross after Mrs. Gibson's death.

The document instructed that Foote's government bonds, located in a trunk of his 30-acre fruit farm, "be burned and the debt represented be cancelled." It also directed similar disposition of his shares in the East Jordan Cooperative.

A further proviso of the will ordered:

"It is my wish that my body go to the nearest medical school that wants it."

Foote's body has been sent to the University of Michigan medical school.

He bequeathed his farm to Michigan State College for reforestation or other purposes.

Foote's neighbors described him as a retiring man who had few close friends. A bachelor, he had been a resident of South Arm township of Charlevoix County for 30 years.

Mild Addicts Form Narcotics Anonymous

CLEVELAND (P)—Formation of a "Narcotics Anonymous" club with 15 "mild" addicts as members was announced Tuesday by Angelo J. Gagliardi, chief probation officer for Cuyahoga County.

Gagliardi said he wanted to test a theory that "junkies" and alcoholics have the same personality problems. Alcoholics Anonymous has helped provide cures in a number of cases by offering companionship and group therapy.

Gagliardi said a 25-year-old industrial chemist had agreed to become provisional chairman. A member of the probation department staff will give aid to the club "only when it is solicited."

Bad Sewage Disposal Blamed For Illness

YPSILANTI (P)—Dr. Otto K. Engelke, Washtenaw County health director, blames poor sewage disposal for an outbreak of diarrhea in Ypsilanti township.

Dr. Engelke told the township board Tuesday night that 17 cases had been discovered and the probable source was Paint Creek which, he said, was "an open sewer."

He advised the board to install a municipal-type sewer system and adequate sewage treatment.

Rapid River Fire Department Had 14 Calls In 1954

RAPID RIVER—The annual report of the Rapid River Fire Department compiled by Ned Short, Fire Chief, lists 14 calls during the past year. Five were in neighboring townships and one was a midnight false alarm sent in by children.

The calls also included a convicted arson case, three grass fires, two chimney fires, a blaze caused by lightning and one by an over-heated stove, two resulting from electrical appliances, one caused by a cabin fireplace, one, an over-fired smoke house, and a roof fire caused by flying chimney sparks.

Fire damage was small within the township. Aside from the arson case, the total amounted to $400.

The next regular meeting of the department will be held Thursday, Jan. 6, at 7:30 p. m. A fellowship hour and lunch will follow the business meeting.

State Fair To Ask 3 Million Dollars For Improvements

LANSING (P)—The Legislature will be asked to appropriate more than three million dollars during the next five years to improve the State Fair grounds in Detroit, the Agriculture Department said.

Dale B. Ball, deputy director of the department, said budget requests for fiscal 1955-56 total more than one million dollars.

The bulk of this, he said, would be earmarked for a new home arts building costing an estimated $685,000. The home arts displays are currently split between two buildings.

The 1955-56 budget request includes $306,000 for maintenance and remodeling, Ball said.

Hundreds Helped At Christmas By Work Of Salvation Army

The Christmas report of the Salvation Army reveals that hundreds of Delta County residents enjoyed a happy Christmas season because of the activities of the Salvation Army, Lt. J. H. Sullivan has revealed.

Total expense in connection with the Christmas effort was $913.68, while a total of $904.78 was received; $517.78 from the Christmas kettle and an additional $387 from clubs and business and professional men of the area.

A total of $606.60 was spent for groceries and candy. These supplies were augmented by approximately 10 bushels of canned goods collected by the Cub Scouts of Jefferson and St. Patrick's schools and other food supplies and candy given by clubs, churches and merchants. One hundred and thirty three baskets were given out. In addition, 32 other families without children received Christmas checks in the amount of $105.14, making a total of 165 families or 950 individuals who were given Christmas dinners.

450 At Parties

Gifts and party expenses totaled $158.39, and included the underprivileged children's party for 175, a party at the Delta County Convalescent Home, Christmas film rentals and Christmas dinner for the "Sand House Boys" at Army headquarters. Attending these parties were 450 persons.

Travel aid, amounting to $15.24, was given to a serviceman on Christmas furlough. Printing and postal expense was $28.31.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce, Escanaba Woman's Club, Escanaba Fire Department and various clubs and bowling leagues that worked on the toy drive did a wonderful job, Lt. Sullivan reported. Several hundred new toys were brought in, and the toys collected by the Junior Chamber and repaired by the firemen numbered about 2,400. Of these new and used toys, every boy and girl of the 133 families, who received Christmas baskets, got toys, and the families with children on the American Legion list were supplied with toys as well.

Approximately 800 boys and girls received toys, carefully selected with respect to age and sex. Members of the Escanaba Woman's Club helped with the distribution.

In addition to these activities, four convalescent homes and several aged and sick folk were visited by a group of carolers and Christmas treats were given out. Thirty pounds of Christmas candy was sent to the boys at the Veterans Hospital at Wood, Wis. Several hundred pieces of clothing were given out plus 16 pieces of good household furniture to families burned out or in need for some other reason.

The spirit and cooperation demonstrated by the people of this area had made this work possible, and the officers and local workers of the Salvation Army wish to thank every one who helped in any way in the 1954 Christmas campaign, Lt. Sullivan emphasized.

Seagull Drops Clam And Injures Woman

MYSTIC, Conn. (AP) — A heavy clam, apparently dropped by a sea gull, shattered a second story window of an insurance office here Tuesday and struck Mrs. Dorothy Bailey on the head as she worked at her desk.

She was treated by a doctor for cuts of the head and released. Natives say it is not unusual for gulls from the nearby Mystic River to bombard the downtown buildings with clams and scallops, but people are rarely hit.

Year Ahead May Be Biggest In History For Auto Industry

By DAVID J. WILKIE
Auto Editor

DETROIT (AP)—The nation's auto makers have started on what may become the biggest three-months' car production volume in their history.

If current plans do not go awry, U. S. factories will build more than 1,900,000 cars in the January-March quarter. That volume level may be maintained, too, through the second quarter.

The auto makers say the heavy output of new cars will be needed for the retail market they see ahead. All the car retailers do not agree with this view.

Some retailers say the heavy production volume will bring a return of the cut-throat competition among retailers that marked a large part of 1954 new car merchandising. This included a lot of price cutting at the retail level, fantastic offers of various types of gifts to influence new car buying and wild trading generally.

What the heavy new car production scheduled for the months ahead will do to the used car market also is stirring speculation. The sales of so many new cars—if it is achieved—during the first half of the year will involve a huge volume of trade-in transactions. Thus a big load is certain to be placed on the used car dealers.

The used car dealers, of course, are not going to take all the trade-ins that result from the new car sales effort this year. Many of the cars will be junked. That opens a substantial market for new cars as well as for better used cars.

It is worthy of note that the motorist seeking the price advantage that comes from a straight cash deal on a new car finds it extremely difficult to sell his old car if it is more than a couple of years old. The used car dealers generally do not want the four year old models.

Where they do accept them the price usually is about one-half of what the car owner expected to get for it.

Georgia Legislator Sponsor Of Bill To Censor Crime News

MACON, Ga. (AP)—A Georgia legislator proposed Monday to withhold the names of persons charged with sex crimes and drunk driving. His projected measure was quickly called a "blackout bill."

Rep. Denmark Groover said he will introduce a bill in the Georgia Legislature next week to bar a newspaper, magazine, radio or television station or news agency from using the names of persons so charged before a grand jury indictment, formal court accusation or a commitment hearing.

The measure would provide a criminal penalty of up to 18 months imprisonment and a $1,000 fine. It would also strip such publication of privilege and lay it open to suits for libel or slander.

The bill would declare its purpose as to safeguard the "constitutional right of privacy of individuals" and not to restrict public information. It would declare it to be state policy "to protect freedom of information to the public and likewise it is an essential duty of this state to protect the innocent from premature or unjustified public denunciation or embarrassment."

The Macon News quickly challenged the proposed bill in an editorial. It declared that Groover's proposal is a "blackout bill" and that while it professes not to be a restriction on public information, "it certainly is."

The editorial declared that the Groover bill would falsify the news by suppressing important ingredients. The Savannah Morning News also denounced the proposed bill.

Groover is slated to be Governor-elect Marvin Griffin's administration floor leader in the House. He said during his summer election campaign that he would introduce the bill.

Funeral services for Sister M. Mercedes, 63, the former Blanche Moreau of this city, were held last week at Concordia, Kans., where the mother house of the Order of St. Joseph is located. She died Dec. 27 as the result of diabetes and a heart condition.

Delta County Produced Worst Traffic Record Again In 1954

DELTA County's traffic death toll reached 19 in 1954 and although the figures for all of the Upper Peninsula counties are not yet reported, it is unlikely that any of the other 14 counties produced such a horrible record.

The traffic toll in Delta County regularly has run ahead of the other counties in the Upper Peninsula, a distinction that is without honor. In 15 years a total of 162 persons have died on Delta County highways—and this period includes the war years 1941-45 when highway traffic was drastically curtailed by fire and gasoline rationing.

The construction of a four-lane highway between Gladstone and Escanaba, now in the planning stage, will help to reduce the traffic hazard in this area but the real need is for better driving.

We can sharply reduce our terrible traffic toll if we dedicate ourselves to this objective. It can be done by more conscientious driving by our motorists and with the help of more vigorous traffic law enforcement.

There is a sign recently erected west of Escanaba on US-2 that reads: "Drunk

Try And Stop Me By BENNETT CERF

It's great to be famous! When a national magazine bought Marlene Dietrich's article, "How to Be Loved," one editor remembered that the star's good friend, Ernest Hemingway, once had declared, "Marlene knows more about love than anyone." The editor thought it would be a great idea to quote Mr. H., but felt that permission was necessary—and "Papa" was off hunting somewhere in Africa.

Hoping against hope, the editor dispatched a cable to the famous author, addressing it: "Ernest Hemingway on Safari in Africa." Two days later the cabled permission was in the editor's hand—with a postscript, "Give Marlene a kiss for me and tell her to write."

A Bronx housewife was overheard last week telling her 10-year-old son, "The Drivers Go to Jail". But obviously the author of that sign wasn't thinking about Delta County. The number of drunk drivers in Delta County who have been committed to jail in the past dozen years is small—very small. In most cases those who did go to jail could have avoided the local bastille merely by paying fine as an alternative. Drunk drivers seldom go to jail in Delta County.

We do not suggest, of course, that the traffic death problem in Delta County would be solved merely by sending all drunk drivers to jail. This would probably help to reduce the toll but a large percentage of fatal accidents involve motorists who have not been drinking alcoholic beverages but who simply drive too fast and too recklessly. A crackdown on speeders and reckless drivers is just as essential as a crackdown on drunk drivers.

It's about time, we think, that some serious attention is given to the horrible traffic toll being exacted in our area.

Challenge For Air Industry

THE cold war experts believe, of course, that Russia has turned to economic warfare in its effort to advance toward world conquest. And they think that, without relaxing our military guard, we must more and more fight the Kremlin on this new ground.

Countries holding three fourths of the world's population are still uncommitted in this combat. Many of them are saddled with groaning poverty. They seek to shake it off, and to find at the same time an opportunity for the fullest expression of their own aspirations.

We cannot lift them up, by transferring large elements of our own wealth to them. We can aid them with substantial technical assistance, with demonstration projects, with new trade agreements that give them better outlet for their products.

And Juan Trippe, president of Pan American World Airways, makes the sensible point that commercial aviation can play a useful role in this whole effort. In a recent speech, he noted that some of the underdeveloped nations have been forced by political and geographic conditions to skip highway and rail development. These, he said, must move directly into "the age of flight."

Their internal transportation must be founded on the airplane, and as such an air network grows, so will industrial and agricultural growth be fostered.

Tripp believes American aviation can help immeasurably in this matter, lending capital, know-how and other needed factors.

Here is an industry that, by its nature, has been in the forefront of recent American progress. It now has fresh opportunity to show its mettle by trying to bring some of that same progress to regions that need it most.

There are schools for weathermen and when yours calls one incorrectly just blame it on the day he played hooky.

This is the time of year when autoists, as well as fenders, are bent on careless driving.

Today In Washington

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—An acid test of the sincerity of the Democratic members of the Senate will come when the Congress reconvenes this week. For, a few weeks ago, they voted solidly without a single exception to condemn speechmaking that tended "to obstruct the constitutional processes of the Senate."

The "leadership conference on civil rights" comprising 52 national religious, labor, civic, fraternal and veterans organizations has issued a statement in effect calling upon the Senate to obey its new ethical precept by permitting the rules of the Senate to be revised by majority vote at the opening of its new session.

The "leadership conference" didn't mention the resolution whereby Senator McCarthy was "condemned" for "obstructing the constitutional processes" of the Senate but it did say that, since under the constitution each house is empowered to "determine the rules of its proceedings, this must mean that the majority of the Senate of each new Congress has the constitutional right to adopt rules of proceedings unfettered by the rules of any preceding Congress."

The statement further points out that unless this is done, 42 senators who were not in the Senate in March 1949 when the present rules were adopted "will be unable to exercise their constitutional right to have a voice in determining the rules which will govern the proceedings of the Senate for the next two years."

AIMED AT FILIBUSTER

The declaration by these various organizations—which include the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, the American Jewish Congress, the Catholic Interracial Council, the American Veterans' Committee, the Americans for Democratic Action, the A. F. of L. and the CIO—is obviously aimed at the filibustering tactics of the southern Democratic senators who in the past have insisted that a two-thirds vote is required to change the rules. They could easily filibuster against such a change if filibusters are still moral and ethical. But the language of the Senate resolution condemning Senator McCarthy clearly implies that hereafter all forms of obstruction to the legislative process are censurable.

How can senators, whether they be Republicans or Democrats, refuse in good conscience now to prohibit filibusters—a speechmaking process cloaked in the insincerities of so-called "unlimited debate"—when they have just gone on record so flatly against "legislative obstruction"?

Everybody knows that there is a majority in Congress in favor of the passage of laws prohibiting any form of racial discrimination in employment or in the use of public facilities but while such bills can pass the House of Representatives they can be blocked in the future, as they have been in the past, by the so-called "filibuster" in the Senate. No senator's mere refusal to accept a congressional committee "invitation" to testify nor any senator's speech calling somebody else harsh names can possibly be as damaging an obstruction to the legislative process as is the modern filibuster which defies the spirit, if not the letter, of the constitution itself.

MAJORITY RULE NEEDED

The statement by the "leadership conference on civil rights" puts the issue this way:

"Eventually majority rule will prevail in the United States Senate. Of that we are confident. Whether or not this can be accomplished at the beginning of the 84th Congress, it is vitally important that the issue be clearly drawn. Responsibility for blocking civil rights legislation and for subjecting other legislation to the continually overhanging threat of a filibuster will thus be placed clearly in the record and in the minds of the American people."

It is well known that the Communists abroad have made much propaganda out of the failure of our Congress to pass legislation enforcing the 14th amendment to the Constitution which provides for equality of citizenship. Will the Democratic party in the south now be accused by its brethren from the north of being the "unwitting handmaidens" of the Communists? Or will it be implied through inaction that any senator can obstruct the legislative process and go unpunished or uncensured so long as he doesn't fight Communists in government. That's the dilemma which now can be posed.

The Northern Democrats tried in January 1953 to get the rules changed by a majority vote only to be defeated by a faction of northern Republicans voting with the Southern Democrats. After the adoption of the resolution against McCarthy, however, the 67 senators who voted to condemn "obstruction of legislative processes" can hardly have a good excuse for voting against the filibustering device by which Senate rules are palpably abused. Fairfield, Utah, Worries Over Ghost Town Of Nearby Mercur

GHOST OF A UTAH GOLD MINE: Abandoned cyanide tanks and ore dump in background at Mercur, Utah, give residents of nearby Fairfield the jitters for fear their water will be poisoned.

By ASKEL NOHR

FAIRFIELD, Utah—(NEA)—The town of Fairfield, Utah, (pop. 70) is scared to death of a ghost. The ghost is nearby Mercur (pop. 2), long since dead, but once a busy boom town.

Fairfield is in Utah County's Cedar Valley. Ghostly Mercur is above it, in the mountains, just over the line in Tooele County. Mercur was once one of the nation's biggest gold-mining centers. Mining in the area was started back in 1860 and continued, with various ups and downs, until 1939, when the mines closed down because of economic conditions.

Today, Mercur is a typical Western ghost town. Silence prevails in its once-noisy streets. Empty and cobwebbed are the once-busy homes, boarding houses, stores, service stations and saloons. As a ghost town, it is beginning to attract sight-seers. Prowlers steal piece after piece of the buildings and machinery. The latter, incidentally, is the reason for Mercur's population of two.

Fairfield folk fear ghostly Mercur because it may poison them all some rainy day. At the old mine-site there's a mountainside dump of old, worked-over ore. It contains large amounts of poisonous cyanide of potassium, used as a flux in milling gold ore.

The dump has been leached by floods and cloudbursts and the contaminated water has cut a gully below the dump and above the springs which provide the water supply for Fairfield and other Cedar Valley communities.

Responding to demands that protective steps be taken, the Utah County commissioners recently pledged assistance to the small towns in maintaining a levee at points where a flood could break through. Unless the waters are diverted, the commissioners agree, the poison might seep into the local water supply.

That "population of two" in Mercur are Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Grane, an elderly couple working as caretakers for the Bothwell Brothers Co., which owns the Mercur town and mining center. They still have about $250,000 worth of equipment there and the Granes sort of keep an eye on it, with the help of their watchdog, "Fritz."

They have lived in the isolated place eight years now and claim they like the loneliness too much to leave it. They live in five rooms of what was a 16-room apartment house during the old boom days. They have an old radio but no newspapers or TV and no car.

Which they unwillingly share with the local porcupines and a score of chickens. There's a telephone and a friendly grocery man who brings out mail and food on request.

For these two simple people, Mercur, the ghost town, has become a happy haven.

Edson In Washington

By PETER EDSON

(NEA Washington Correspondent)

WASHINGTON—(NEA)— Clarence B. Randall, chairman of the board of Inland Steel has been having a tough time trying to put over President Eisenhower's foreign trade program. But at last he seems to be making progress.

Since bringing out the report of the Randall Commission of 17 Congressmen and business leaders last January, Mr. Randall has been working half-time as a White House consultant. He has reviewed the program to see if there were bugs in it. And he has listened and talked to anyone interested in this subject of tariffs and foreign trade, seizing every opportunity to urge adoption of the program by Congress in 1955.

ONE OF HIS prize speeches on this subject was made before the big and powerful National Manufacturers Assn. in New York. This group, as conservative as any business organization in the country, is split right down the middle on whether the reciprocal trade agreements program should be extended.

Companies with a big export business are for it. Companies who have to compete with imports from abroad are dead against it. NAM is so divided on this subject that it refuses to take any policy stand of its own on the question.

In spite of this, Mr. Randall bearded the Lions in their Waldorf-Astoria banquet room den, and tried to tell them the facts of foreign economic life, according to modern gospel.

AS HE WAS COMING down in the elevator next morning, a couple whom he didn't know recognized him and smiled. The man spoke to Mr. Randall and said:

"Come here, brother, and shake hands. Gosh, how I loathed every word you said last night. But you converted my wife."

This simple statement revealed one of the most striking developments in this perennial, national debate. The women's organizations seem to be all for expanding foreign trade. It's the men who are divided.

The major farm groups—Grange and Farm Bureau—are for it. Farmers' Union made up of smaller farmers, is opposed.

THE NATIONAL LABOR union organizations are for it—American Federation of Labor and CIO David J. McDonald, head of the Steelworkers union, who has battled Mr. Randall on many a labor contract, was a public member of the Randall Commission and voted right along with the chairman on practically every issue.

But many local unions of ceramics, textile and other industries which must compete with imports, will line up with their bosses against the program when Senate Finance and House Ways and Means Committees begin hearings on legislation to carry out the Randall Commission program.

The chances for passage of a three-year extension of the trade program with supplementary legislation look a lot better than they did a year ago. In the last Congress, a one-year extension was the most that could be secured.

Assurances have been given that there will be no "end-run" by Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks, carrying the ball, behind high-tariff business interference.

Nevertheless, the battle over passage will be bitter. Just how bitter it will be is perhaps best indicated by the experience of Mr. Randall's own Inland Steel Co. One of its customers recently cancelled a $20,000 order because of the prominent part the chairman has played in this work.

A boycott was then organized in an attempt to make its suppliers take Inland off their trade list.

That shows how high the stakes are, and how the game is being played for the prize in this most controversial issue.

Milk Can Carry Germs;
Be Sure It's Pasteurized

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D. — Written for NEA Service

Milk is one of the most valuable and widely used foods available to man. It provides energy and contains some minerals and is rich in carbohydrates, fats, proteins and certain vitamins.

But milk can also carry disease germs. Many germs can grow in it rapidly. The germs can get into milk directly from an infected cow or may drop in anywhere along its path between the cow and the consumer. Milk has caused dangerous illness in many people. The germ of tuberculosis is carried in milk. Typhoid fever, septic sore throat and undulant fever or brucellosis are also spread by contaminated milk.

THE SPREAD OF disease germs through milk can be checked. The way to do this is simple and well known. It is merely necessary to use a process of treating milk with heat which destroys the disease germs which may be present. This heat treatment is called pasteurization—a name which it received from the great French pioneer in bacteriology, Louis Pasteur.

For a long time the idea of pasteurizing milk was objected to because people thought that it harmed the taste or destroyed some of the nutritious value. These ideas are wrong. The taste is altered only slightly by pasteurization. It has been shown conclusively that the seasonal variation in the nutritional quality of milk is greater than any effect which pasteurization has on this excellent food.

DESTROYING GERMS by heating is no excuse for supplying consumers with dirty milk. The more healthy the cows, the cleaner the collecting methods, the transportation and the bottling, the fewer the germs which have to be destroyed by pasteurization. Great steps forward have been made in getting cleaner milk. Modern dairy herds are healthier and milking, collecting and transportation methods are much better than they used to be.

Certified milk is that which has been obtained from specially selected dairies and collect and distributed under conditions of rigid care. Some certified milk is also pasteurized, and the fact that milk is pasteurized does not mean that it was not also obtained from inspected cows and has been carefully handled.

ANYONE who realizes the protection which they and their families are given by pasteurization of milk should feel that a great step forward has been taken. Drinking unprotected raw milk would expose people to the unnecessary danger of catching disease germs.

For those who cannot purchase pasteurized milk there are several electrically operated home pasteurizers on the market.

Stockholders Of GM May Buy Shares To Raise 325 Million

NEW YORK (AP)—General Motors Corp., at midpoint in a two-year billion dollar expansion program, is going to raise 325 million dollars for new growth through sale of common stock to its present stockholders rather than go to bankers for a loan or new debentures.

Current GM shareholders will be offered the right to subscribe to one new share of common for each 20 shares held.

That decision by the corporations directors Monday came at the close of an acrobatic day on the New York Stock Exchange for GM common.

Wall Street was alive with rumors that General Motors planned a stock dividend or a stock split, or that an anti-trust action might result in an eventual stock split.

The rumor mill was spiced Sunday by a statement from Federal Trade Commissioner Edward F. Howrey. Speaking on an "American Forum" television program, Howrey remarked that General Motors was too big but he didn't know what could be done about it.

These rumors proved groundless but GM stock, with 65,400 shares traded, was the day's most active issue. It closed at $105.12, up $7.25. At one point, it had jumped more than $9.

Du Pont, which owns some 20 million shares of GM common, closed $4 higher at $171.50 after hitting a high of $175.75.

The price of the new stock to be offered GM shareholders has not been determined. It will have to be by Jan. 20 or shortly after when General Motors expects to file a registration statement for the new issue with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Harlow H. Curtice, president, and Alfred P. Sloan Jr., board chairman, said proceeds of the new issue would be used partly for capital expenditures and partly for working capital.

For the first nine months of 1954, GM has reported sales of $7,219,169,633 and net income of $584,915,125 equivalent to $6.58 a common share.

Brennan Fights For Bench Seat

LANSING (AP)—Wayne County Circuit Judge Vincent M. Brennan has gone to the State Supreme Court in his fight to retain his seat on the bench.

Arthur H. Rice of Detroit, attorney for Judge Brennan said he would withdraw a petition for a writ of mandamus from the Ingham County Circuit Court and file a similar petition in the State Supreme Court.

The writ, if granted, would force the State Judges Retirement Board to allow Judge Brennan to withdraw his retirement application.

Under criticism for his drinking, Judge Brennan submitted the retirement application in October.

The judge has refused to step down from the bench even after Gov. Williams named Theodore R. Bohn of Detroit, Wayne County Democratic chairman, as his successor.

Judge Brennan showed up in court Monday but no cases were assigned to him pending outcome of the court test.

Luce County Receives $28,800 In Taxes On State-Owned Lands

LANSING (AP)—Seventy-two Michigan counties will receive a total of $389,081 in the next few weeks as tax payments on state-owned lands, the Conservation Department said.

Most of the land is located in northern Lower Peninsula.

Some $50,000 will be distributed to counties in the southern part of the state, the department said.

Luce County will receive the biggest slice of the tax payment—nearly $28,800.

Swedish Diplomat Killed In Accidental Fall From Paris Train

PARIS (AP)—French police speculated that Swedish diplomat Sven Grafstrom, whose mangled body was found Monday on a railroad track 80 miles southeast of Paris, had opened the wrong door while looking for the train washroom.

Because of the body's condition, a member of the Swedish Embassy staff was unable to confirm its identification Monday night but a Swedish spokesman said the embassy was convinced of the identity.

The 52-year-old diplomat, former chairman of the four-power Korean Military Armistice Commission and Swedish minister to Mexico since 1952, had been vacationing with his wife and two children on the Italian Riviera.

Investigating police said they found no trace of any struggle or any indication that the death was other than an accident.

Pensioner Lost 25 Days, Survives

OMAHA (AP)—A story of having been isolated on the woody and weedy Missouri River bottomlands south of here for 25 days without food was told by Otto Drefs, a 66-year-old pensioner.

Drefs said he left a rest home here early in December for a hike "and there was nobody to miss me." He said that on Dec. 8 or 9 he walked into the wooded and thicketed areas of the river bottoms.

"I got cramps in my stomach and my legs gave out," he said. He said that while he found himself unable to walk, he could do some crawling. He built a fire with pocket matches and kept it going, he said, by crawling about for weeds and small logs. And, he said, he crawled each day some 20 feet to the river's edge for water. Each day, he said, he shouted for aid.

But until Monday, nobody apparently heard him. Then farmer Dave Shoemaker, across the river on the Iowa side, heard the calls. Shoemaker told Iowa officers. They found Drefs about 20 feet from the water, huddled in a hollow and with his wrists, overalls and bill of his cap singed.

Chevrolet Tops Ford By 19,603

DETROIT (AP)—Chevrolet topped Ford by 19,603 cars in the 1954 production race.

Figures released by General Motors show its biggest car division built 1,414,365 passenger cars last year. Ford previously announced its Ford division built 1,394,762 cars, second largest output volume in its history.

The GM figures show total U. S. production last year of 2,874,271 cars, compared with 2,799,615 in 1953. Ford's overall total for the year was 1,990,021 against 1,863,669 in 1953.

Chrysler, other member of the "Big Three," built 1,245,598 passenger cars in 1954, against 1,246,598 in 1953.

Despite Chevrolet's production leadership Ford still claims its 1954 retail sales topped those of the GM unit.

Reports from some state capitals tell of unusual heavy registrations of Fords and Chevrolets last week. Some of the registrations were made by dealers in the names of their agencies, of prospective customers and also of demonstrator cars.

This procedure has not been unusual in past years. It has been done to enlarge the total of registrations for advertising purposes. However, Chevrolet and Ford officials deny there has been any concerted action along that line.

Karachi was a city of 300,000 before Pakistan became independent in 1947, but today it has a million people.

No more, "... please pass the sugar, salt, relish, bread..." with this lazy susan on the table. It may be cut out of plywood with a base of solid stock and assembled in an evening. The pattern also gives variation of the design which may be used for parties and a holiday centerpiece. One is a 4-sided tree cut out of thin plywood to stand 6-inches high and hold lollipops, candy on toothpicks, stuck into the four sides of the tree. There is a 6-inch high brightly painted figure to stand in the center to hold a dish of Christmas goodies. These are special for the holidays but the lazy susan is a handy piece the year 'round. Pattern 422 is 25c. Add 2c for first class mail or 5c for air mail. Patterns mailed within 24 hours.

THE CORRECT SIGNAL

In this highly scientific bridge age, we hear a great deal about such conventions as the suit-preference signal, and there is no denying that in competent hands such devices can produce splendid results. But before partners take up this or other advanced techniques, it is a very good idea to learn all there is to know about "old-fashioned" signals—notably, the "echo", otherwise known as the "high-low."

Consider this case:

West dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.
North-South 60 on score.

The bidding:
West North East South
1NT Pass 2♥ 2♠
Pass Pass 3♦ 3♣
Dble. Pass Pass Pass

West opened the club king, peered at East's four-spot, and promptly shifted to the deuce of hearts. After that South had no trouble—he knocked out the trump king, drew trumps and conceded two diamonds.

Where did the defense go wrong? The answer is that East should have played a high club for a "come-on." Let's analyze:

East knew that it would do South no good to set up dummy's club suit—there was certainly no entry to dummy. Thus, even though it was practically sure that South would ruff the club ace if West led it, no danger lurked for the defenders in that direction. There was however, a serious risk in inviting a shift from West. East had bid two hearts, and West would presumably shift to that suit. West might have the heart queen to make the shift safe, but then again, he might not.

West could have protected himself by ignoring East's club signal and continuing the suit, but from his point of view East's holding might have been king-queen in hearts and jack-high in a four-card diamond suit. In this case the heart shift would be vital.

Fire Loss Here
At Low Point

Fire losses in the city of Manistique during 1954 total less than $2,000, Elmer Boal, fire chief reports. During the year the department responded to 73 city calls, but only one fire, in a dwelling, resulted in much loss. There were 25 calls on fires outside the city.

In the county, four dwellings were destroyed by fire in the past year, and three deaths resulted from two house fires.

Twenty-eight calls to fires in dwellings in the city and nine in the county were made by firemen during the year. In addition there was one hotel fire, at Germfask; five auto fires in the city, and 23 grass fires in the city and six in the county. Other fires totaled 15 in the city and five in the county.

The fire loss in the city is the lowest it has been in several years, the chief reports. In 1953, the fire loss in the city was in excess of $12,500.

Speeding Heads Offense List In Court Here
Speeding led the list of offenses which brought motorists into Justice court here during 1954, a report prepared by Justice E. J. Doyle reveals.

A total of 758 cases has been heard in court since the new justice took office April 13, 1954. These included 435 county cases, 181 city cases and 142 civil cases.

Fines and costs collected totaled $9,117.40. The city's share of this, which includes all costs, was $4,187.90, and the county's share, earmarked for library funds, was $4,929.50.

In the April to December period in 1953, a total of 608 cases was heard in Justice court, and $7,369.43 was collected in fines and costs.

There were 197 speeding cases, the 1954 justice report shows, as well as 60 cases of improper overtaking and passing, 35 non-stop tickets, 39 reckless driving charges, 14 drunk driving charges, 29 cases of failure to yield right of way and 15 cases where motorists failed to have their cars under control.

There also were 12 cases where motorists had defective equipment and nine cases where unlicensed minors were permitted to drive.

Justice court collections here are higher this year partly because there has been a 40 per cent increase throughout the state in state police activity, Justice Doyle reports.

Belgian Congo
Interesting facts about the Belgian Congo were presented before the Gladstone Rotary Club at its weekly luncheon meeting Monday noon at the Yacht Club by the Rev. Clyde Anderson, Evangelical Mission Covenant Church missionary, home on furlough after serving in Africa. The missionary is scheduled to return to Africa in February.

To reach the area which he serves, the missionary traveled a thousand miles up the Congo River and several hundred miles more by truck. Inhabiting the Belgian Congo are three large tribes of Africans which the speaker said he found were pretty much like other humans, particularly in that they like many of the things that others do.

He said the mental picture we have of Africans running about wildly with spear or other weapon ready to slay without provocation is untrue. Instead, they are a quiet, easy-going people who abhor taxes, possess meager personal belongings and are content to live as they have for centuries.

Food of the African is simple and meat is had only a few times a month. An African will spend most of the time in the garden attempting to raise sufficient food to eat. To keep an African contented and happy one has only to keep his stomach full, the speaker declared.

City Briefs
The pace of life in that country is considerably slower and the speaker said he believed it would be impossible to work an African to death and that an American will do more work in an hour than an African in a day.

The people of that nation are extremely superstitious and one of their beliefs is that lightning is an animal and demonstration otherwise by electrical experiment fails to change their mind.

Health of the people is not as good as in this nation but one thing an African never has and that is ulcers.

Today things are changing in Africa, Rev. Carlson said, for the people of that nation have been watching and now desire many things the whites have. In his opinion, however, education is their greatest need.

Senior Bowl Classic Will Send Stars Against Stars

By HOYT HARWELL

MOBILE, Ala. (P)—The other bowl games produced their share of stars, but which would shine if they were all in the same football game? Saturday's sixth annual Senior Bowl classic will provide the answer.

Dave Leggett, national champion Ohio State's quarterback named the Rose Bowl's outstanding player, will direct one of North coach Paul Brown's backfields.

In leading the Buckeyes to a 20-7 victory over South Cal, Leggett scored one touchdown, passed for another and made a pitchout on his pet option play for the third.

Two Teammates

His teammates 192-pound center Bob Thornton and 213-pound end Dean Dugger, will be used up front by Brown.

On the same side with the Ohio State's will be two of their Rose Bowl foes, halfback Lindon Crow and his running mate, Frank Clayton.

The other North quarterback, Indiana's Florian Helmski, threw a 52-yard pass for one of the 17-20 touchdowns when it lost 17-20 to the South in the Shrine's college all-star game at Miami Christmas night.

The South, though, will not be without its bowl stars at quarterback.

Auburn's Bobby Freeman ran for another and was second to teammate Joe Childress in ground gaining in his club's 33-13 victory over Baylor in the Gator Bowl.

The other South quarterback, Duke's Jerry Barger, heaved two

Robinson Opens Comeback Trail

DETROIT (P)—Sugar Ray Robinson starts his long-awaited comeback tonight, and the magic of his name may draw more than 10,000 paying customers to Olympia Stadium.

The former middleweight champion of the world, looking lean and lithe despite his 34 years, meets Joe Rindone of Boston in a non-televized 10-rounder.

Robinson has been inactive for 30 months. He was once termed the finest fighter in the world pound for pound.

What prompted his attempted comeback?

"I can use the money," he said, "but I'm not broke. I missed the atmosphere. I missed the fight crowds, the kibitzers in the dressing rooms, the guys in the gym."

If all goes well, Robinson said he hopes to get a June title shot at middleweight champion Bobo Olson. Robinson defended his championship against Olson in a title match back on March 13, 1932.

Ray hasn't fought since June of that year when, arm weary and exhausted, he collapsed in the 14th round in Yankee Stadium while trying to take the light heavyweight crown from Joey Maxim. He's been a song and dance man since then.

Rindone, a balding 28-year-old veteran, has a 33-13-2 mark, losing all three fights last year.

Scrappy Hawks Stun Pioneers 4-1

Olson Gets Hat-Trick; New Players Are Sharp

A fighting band of Escanaba Hawks, led by playing-coach Mark Olson, stunned the Portage Lake Pioneers 4-1 here last night before a highly enthusiastic crowd of nearly 600 fans.

Olson backed by a crew of talented Canadian youngsters, scored the hat-trick against the tough Pioneers with goals in the first, second and third periods. Buddy Provo, vastly improved Escanaba winger, registered Escanaba's other goal on one of the neatest plays of the night in the final period.

Escanaba fans were treated to an excellent display of skating, shooting and passing by the Hawks in their first Northern Michigan-

Ontario League home start.

Hawks Short-Handed

Playing with only 11 men available, the Hawks were never in serious trouble and led the Pioneers throughout the game. Big Ben Artwich missed a shutout when Tony Bukovich swooped in on the tail-end of a pass from Jackie Ruelle and Joe Bukovich to score late in the second period.

The short-handed Hawks opened fast with Olson, Provo and Steve Butorac putting quick pressure on the Portage Lake defenses. Forming the second line were John Perry, Warner Wilson and Tony Mancini. Joe Nogalo, Dick Johnson and

BUS TO CALUMET

Arrangements are being made to charter a bus for the Escanaba-Calumet game in Calumet Saturday night. There is room for 17 fans to accompany the team to Calumet. A reasonable round-trip fee will be charged. Fans interested are asked to telephone Jim McNicoll at 634-W.

Mike Otis shared defense with Almo Muhonen operating as a relief man on the front lines.

Olson broke the scoring ice with only a half-minute remaining in the first period when he beat PL goalie Ray Tapani with a short poke after a blistering shot by Butorac had been stopped.

Pass From Butorac

At 7:17 of the second period Butorac fed Olson a pass in front of the net and the Hawks' firebrand slammed it twice at Tapani, beating the youthful Portage Lake netminder on the second try.

Bukovich narrowed the Portage Lake deficit to 2-1 at 16:37 of the second period while both teams were a man short. Wilson and Jerry Kestner had tangled briefly along the boards and caught the eye of referee Matt Pavelich who caged them with high-sticking. Although the terrific pace had HAWK ATTACK—This Hawk combination clicked twice at the Escanaba fairgrounds exhibition building last night as Escanaba defeated Portage Lake, 4-1, in its first home Northern Michigan Ontario Hockey League game. Mark Olson, Hawk playing coach, is the helmeted player making the scoring thrust after taking a pass from Steve Butorac, far right. Portage players in the picture, left to right, are veteran Bernie Ruelle, Jerry Kestner, John Ala trying to smother Olson, and Ray Tapani, 17-year-old goalie. It was a big night for Olson. He scored the coveted hat trick and assisted Buddy Provo on the Hawks' fourth goal. begun to show on the Hawks late in the second period, they came out with a vengeance in the final frame. A continued attack on Tapani paid off when Butorac fed the puck to Olson who whipped it across the face of the net to Provo who caught Tapani flat-footed for the cleanest goal of the evening. The score came at 2:40.

Muhonen got into the act when he laid the puck on Olson's stick in the corner of the net at 7:19 to close the scoring.

Wilson Suffers Cut

Wilson, a smooth operator who makes up for lack of brawn with speed and agility, suffered a bad face gash in the first period that required five stitches but the rugged little competitor was back in the thick of things early in the second period and was a vital factor in Escanaba's impressive showing.

A defensive standout was Joe Nogalo who continually turned Portage Lake thrusts aside to give Artwich a big helping hand. The defensive play of Johnson and Otis was also a welcome sight for Escanaba fans who have seen Artwich pretty well exposed in the nets in the past.

The Hawks played without the services of forwards Bill Suriano, whose wife gave birth to a baby girl yesterday morning, Big Higgins and Clarence Matt of Marquette and Guy Poce and Lee Houghton who had not yet arrived from Minnesota.

Escanaba will play at Calumet Saturday night and return to the fairgrounds rink Sunday afternoon at 2:15 against the Canadian Soo Esquires.

Maryland New Court Threat

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Maryland, once a basketball pushover, today is a distinct threat to win the new Atlantic Coast Conference championship.

Ranked No. 11 in the weekly Associated Press poll, Maryland won its fifth straight game and fourth league victory Tuesday night—a 68-51 decision over South Carolina.

In the Southwest Conference, Texas Christian, the league favorite, whipped Arkansas 67-62 on the wings of Dick O'Neal's 38 points. Southern Methodist, a sharp-shooting outfit which is rated right behind Texas Christian, slugged Texas 74-51. Rice coasted to a 61-41 triumph over Texas A. & M.

Missouri, which figures to win the Big Seven crown, got past Kansas, an old jinx, 76-65, and in the process snapped a Jayhawk streak of 33 straight home victories. Nebraska surprised Iowa State 76-63, while Kansas State outlasted Oklahoma 90-82.

Alabama defeated North Carolina 77-55, and the highlight of this one was an 88-foot field goal by George Linn of the Tide.

De Paul rolled to its ninth victory in 10 starts, defeating John Carroll 88-55; Columbia edged Syracuse 75-74; New York University overcame West Virginia 79-78 on Ed Kramer's foul with three seconds to go; Manhattan clipped Brigham Young 78-75; and Oregon won a Pacific Coast Conference clash from Washington State 67-55.

Police officers of the Escanaba department attended a recent meeting to speak on driving safety and safe automobiles, along with the club's line of safety promotion.

Plane Trips Included In American Schedule

CHICAGO (P)—Eight plane trips will be required in this year's American League baseball schedule with Kansas City as a new member.

League President Will Harridge today estimated the 1955 schedule, to be announced Jan. 17, will add between 9,000 and 10,000 miles of travel for the eight clubs over a previous average season.

Harridge said that the shift of Baltimore into the eastern division and the switch of the A's from Philadelphia to Kansas City brought travel complications between Kansas City and Detroit and Cleveland. These make necessary the eight plane trips.

Cleveland, Baltimore and Detroit flew last year, but as a matter of convenience and not because the schedule required it.

During spring training the Milwaukee Braves will meet the Brooklyn Dodgers 11 times.

Eben Scores Pierce Before Falling 52-44

EBEN—Underdog Eben gave undefeated Marquette Pierce a scare here last night before bowling 52-41.

Pierce needed a terrific closing spurt to down the Eben quint after leading by only 44-41 with two minutes remaining in the game.

The loss was the sixth in seven starts for Eben and the win was the fifth straight for Marquette Pierce.

Ed Heribacka carried the brunt of Eben's scoring with 16 points from the pivot. Johnson paced Pierce with 22.

Parker Inks One-Year Contract With Lions

DETROIT (P)—If anyone has confidence in coach Buddy Parker and his Detroit Lion's it's Parker himself.

That was displayed when Parker signed a one-year contract for what informed sources say will gross him some $30,000 this year.

Parker, commenting on his fifth one-year contract with the Lions after he previously said he wanted one for two years, said: "That's the kind of contract I decided to ask for and that's what I got. I wouldn't be so happy with a one-year contract if I didn't think we will be in contention for the title again next season."

That was displayed Tuesday when Parker signed a one-year contract for what informed sources said will gross him some $30,000 this year.

Parker said he will begin immediately with the job of plugging the holes and fixing the mistakes that cost Detroit the National Football League championship when Cleveland beat them, 56-10, the day after Christmas.

Both Parker and Lions President Edwin J. Anderson said they hope big Les Bingaman can be persuaded to continue his block-busting role in Detroit's line. Bingaman announced his retirement with the Cleveland game.

"If Bing won't come back we ought to get two draft choices for him to plug the hole left in our line," said Parker.

Anderson said he expected a $120,000 profit, the largest ever made by the Lions, when the 1954 audit is in.

Pro Golf Stars Hit Rich Tourney Trail
LOS ANGELES (P)—The nation's professional golf stars hit the richest tournament trail of all Thursday when they fire away in the $25,000 Los Angeles open, the first of 15 events with purses amounting to $250,000.

All of the country's best known players are here, with the exception of Sam Snead, who play infrequently in tournaments.

As sideshow attractions, a pro-clebsity round was slated today for a $2,500 purse for the pros, and the women's PGA will compete at 54 holes for an extra $5,000 purse.

Joe Louis Is Getting Reputation As Trainer

By JOE MOOSHL

CHICAGO (P)—"I'm having a lot of luck with these boys but a career as a fight trainer is out." That was Joe Louis, former world's heavyweight champion, talking.

Louis' stock as a fight trainer skyrocketed the last couple of weeks after his tips to Paul Andrews and Gil Turner brought about upset victories for both fighters.

Will Help Mueller

And a couple of days ago, Freddie Sommers, manager of German middleweight Peter Mueller announced that Louis would help train his fighter.

"I help these boys as a favor to them or their managers," said Louis. "I could never make as much money as a trainer as I do refereeing wrestling matches. I guess this thing all started when I saw Andrews lose to Joey Maxim after he had Maxim beat in the first two rounds.

"Paul wasn't mean enough. His hands were too slow and he just wasn't thinking in the ring. I was sure Andrews could beat Billy Smith. Everyone said he couldn't but I was right.

"Andrews is a good two years away from Rocky Marciano (heavy-weight champion) and one good year away from Archie Moore (light heavyweight champion)." Louis predicted that Turner is but one year from giving Bobo Olson, middleweight king, a good fight in which he might win.

"Turner had too many bad habits. He'd move too fast at times and then he let the other guy get too close. Just like he did in Chicago when he let that guy (Al Andrews) knock him out."

After his victory over Italo Scottichini, Turner said "I owe it all to Joe."

Rumor Pete Hurt

Louis admitted he never saw Mueller fight but said he'll help him if he can because of his friendship with Sommers.

"I heard he's a good fighter and his record is good," Joe said. "I'll be in Milwaukee a few days before his fight next week and take a look at him."

Mueller was scheduled to meet Canada's Gordon Wallace at Milwaukee Tuesday. Reports Tuesday night, however, were that Mueller had been injured and that his fight with Wallace was off.

Sabourin, Miller Head Escanaba Hot Rod Club

Organization of the Escanaba hot rod club, known as the Drag-n's Auto Club, has been completed and officers named on a provisional basis.

Kemp Sabourin will serve as president and Bill Miller as vice president of the club for six months, at which time an election of officers will be held.

Meeting each Monday evening at 7:30 at clubrooms at 1418

Washington Ave., the club now has 24 members. Any new members will be welcomed at future meetings, Sabourin advised.

Members of the club will soon have indentifying aluminum plates attached to their autos. The non-profit organization has a firm policy of safe driving performance and any member who violates it is expelled, the officers stated.

Police officers of the Escanaba department attended a recent meeting to speak on driving safety and safe automobiles, along with the club's line of safety promotion.

The Drag-n's Club is attempting to get a quarter-mile drag strip for the summer season in Escanaba. The straight-away stretch is used for hot rod races in which the cars run against time.

Don Lenhardt Dropped From Major Leagues

BOSTON (P)—Don Lenhardt's baseball contract has been assigned by the Boston Red Sox to their American Assn. farm team at Louisville.

General manager Joe Cronin today announced the contract assignment of the 32-year-old Red Sox outfielder-first baseman.

Lenhardt has twice been with Boston, first in a deal with Chicago in November 1951. Later he was traded but was purchased from Baltimore last May.

Last season, including 13 games with the Orioles, Lenhardt batted .273 in 44 games.

Phillies Need Flag Contender

PHILADELPHIA (P)—Owner Bob Carpenter of the Philadelphia Phillies says the only way his National League baseball club can make money under present circumstances is to be a pennant contender.

The Phillies are now the only major league baseball club in a metropolitan area of more than 3,000,000 persons, since the Athletics moved to Kansas City.

But, says Carpenter, "with the terrible parking conditions" in the vicinity of the Connie Mack Stadium, the Phils can't begin to approach the necessary attendance, he said that last year the club lost a quarter of a million dollars while drawing 758,000 customers.

Carpenter feels the Phils need to draw 950,000 and says he is willing to trade anyone of his players to build the team into a contender that will draw that amount.

Coaches Want More Liberal Substitution Next Season

NEW YORK (AP) — Unless the NCAA rules committee vetoes the coaches there will be a more liberal substitution rule in college football next fall.

Recommendations for strengthening the rule on "sucker" shifts, and raising the height of the kick-off tee from the present one inch to three inches were also made Tuesday night by the rules committee of the American Football Coaches Assn.

The NCAA's rules committee which convenes here next Monday, overruled the coaches two years ago and tossed out the unlimited substitution (two platoon) rule. But it is expected to go along with the coaches this time.

New Sub Rule
The new football sub rule would allow any player who starts a quarter to reenter once during the same quarter. A player who doesn't start the quarter may not reenter. The present rule does not permit a player to return in the same quarter in which he is withdrawn except for the final four minutes of the second and fourth quarters.

Lou Little, Columbia football coach and chairman of the coaches' rules committee, said "Now the substitution rule will be the same for all four quarters."

The proposed change would permit more medical checks on players, something the coaches are more desirous of than ever following Dr. Floyd Eastwood's annual report on fatalities which showed 19 direct deaths due to football in 1954 and six indirect deaths. This was the highest fatality total since 1949.

The "sucker" shift recommendation would add this to the present rule:

Sucker Shift Rule
"Once a lineman has taken his place on the line of scrimmage and assumed or simulated a three or four-point stance, thereafter there can be no movement before the start of play."

But if he merely takes a two-point stance with his hands on his knees, he still may move.

Baseball coaches got some bad news from Ford Frick at their annual banquet Tuesday night.

The baseball commissioner disclosed that minor leagues, in a mail vote, had declined once again to enter an agreement with the colleges on the signing of college baseball players. The majors have agreed that a college player may not be signed by a professional team once he reaches his sophomore year and until either he reaches 21 or he or his class graduates.

Rough Quints Getting Hooked

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Paul B. (Tony) Hinkle, president of the National Basketball Coaches Assn., said today it's a little early to gauge effects of the new bonus foul rule but "it looks as if the rough teams are getting hooked."

"There's no doubt it places a severe penalty on fouling," said Hinkle, who is coaching Butler University's team for the 26th year.

"Teams which can guard without fouling are doing very well under the rule. There's Purdue, for example."

Purdue, with a veteran team but a poor record the last two years, has won eight of nine games this season losing only by one point to Pennsylvania.

"The full effects of giving an extra free throw for one made haven't been seen yet," Hinkle said in an interview. "I can't see that the rule has decreased fouling. But there are several possible developments."

An aggressive defense may be eliminated. Coaches may go into the zone defense. One of the dangers is that congested defenses might place a premium on height and eliminate the good little men. "We'll just have to wait and see," said Hinkle, whose coaches' association sponsored the rule change.

Spartan Sidelines

By ROBERT E. VOGES
EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State has lost one hockey player through scholastic troubles but picked up three others.

Forward Steve Raz of Lethbridge, Alberta, Canada, has been declared ineligible. Since Raz is a senior, this means his collegiate hockey days are ended.

Raz was tied for second place in the scoring with 15 points.

To replace Raz in his second line, coach Arno Bessone has a choice between two other forwards who have caught up with their studies to become eligible.

They are Charles Waks of Winnipeg, Manitoba, and Gene Grazia of West Springfield, Mass., both rated as promising comers. Henry Campanini, a defenseman, also from West Springfield, is another player who has recouped in his school work enough to take to the ice again.

Forward Al Ferrari sets a new career scoring record for Michigan State every time he drops in a basketball or makes a free throw. His 28 points against Ohio State brings Ferrari up to 813 points and with any luck he should top the one thousand mark before the season is over.

Ferrari had made 13 free throws in a row, 10 against Penn State and three against Ohio State, before he finally missed the basket in his 14th try.

Michigan State track captain Kevin Gosper, who was invited to the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans to run in the 220 and 440, never did get to compete.

Neither did a lot of the other athletes invited to the Sugar Bowl games. The weather was so bad officials told the athletes the running events would be cancelled. Gosper was among those who took off.

Later, miler West Santee said he wanted to run the mile despite poor weather. So an entry list was hurriedly organized for the running events from those athletes who had stuck around to watch the football game and enjoy the weekend in New Orleans.

Propose Huge New Race Track

DETROIT (AP) — An investors group of 22 Detroiters Tuesday asked State Racing Commissioner James H. Inglis for permission to construct a multi-million-dollar horse race track in suburban Clinton township, Macomb County.

The Michigan Thoroughbred Turf Club proposed to have the track ready for racing by August on a 244-acre site already purchased. Plans call for a three-level grandstand and clubhouse seating 10,000 persons, a parking lot for 8,000 cars and fireproof stables which would accommodate 1,200 horses.

Henry C. Murray, attorney representing the investors, submitted with the application signed stock pledges for $3,025,000. An additional one million dollars also would be available, he said. Inglis has turned down several other similar applications in recent years, contending the Detroit area already has adequate racing facilities.

At present there is thoroughbred racing at Detroit Race Course and Hazel Park. Harness races are run at Hazel Park and Northville, and at the Detroit Race Course under the name of Wolverine Raceway.
